Dr. Gary Armstrong

Gary Armstrong is Professor of Political Science at William Jewell College. He joined the Jewell Faculty in 1992 while finishing his Ph.D.

at Georgetown University. He has served at Jewell as Interim Vice President for Academic Affairs, Associate Dean for the Core Curriculum, Political Science Department Chair, director of Jewell's new cyber security major, advisor at the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, and several other positions. His favorite courses to teach focus on understanding the world as it truly is and the great debates about how it could be different, with "Intro to World Politics" and "US National Security Policy," "Cyber Conflict," and senior-level capstone seminar in war ethics, as well as a senior capstone in Jewell's Core Curriculum on bioethics and infertility medicine ("Birth By Any Means? The ethics of Assisted Reproductive Technology"). Some of his academic research works involves war termination, especially in World War I.

He earned a B.A. from Oklahoma University in political science and a Ph.D. from Georgetown University.

He lives a few blocks from Jewell in Liberty with his wife Linda. They have three children and three grandchildren. They love reading, camping, movies, and hosting Friday Night Burger Night for the kids and grandkids.

Alexander William Doniphan

Alexander William Doniphan was born near Maysville in Mason County, Kentucky, on July 9, 1808, and died in Richmond, Ray County, Missouri, on August 8, 1887. Doniphan graduated from Augusta College in Kentucky in 1827 at age 19. In 1829, after studying law for two years, he was admitted to practice in the courts of Ohio and Kentucky. In 1830 he relocated to Lafayette County, Missouri, where he established a law office. Within a few years, he traveled to Liberty, Clay County, where he became known as a fearless orator in the courts of law.

In 1837 he married Elizabeth Jane Thornton, a daughter of Colonel John Thornton, one of Clay County's first settlers. That marriage produced two sons, both of whom died in their youth by separate accidents. During Doniphan's 30 years in Clay County he was regarded as a leading citizen, giving the best of his abilities to the county's social and economic development. However, like nearly every other similarly situated man in his community at this time, Doniphan benefited from the labor and was the owner of enslaved people.

During Doniphan's 30 years in Clay County he was regarded as a leading citizen, giving the best of his abilities to the county's social and economic development. Although a member of the Disciples of Christ Church, he was one of the founders of William Jewell College, a Baptist-affiliated school in Liberty, Missouri. His name appears as a trustee of a number of early schools and he later became the first Clay County School Commissioner.

Doniphan was instrumental in organizing Caldwell County as a home for members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He had previously represented the claims of members of the church in property disputes from Jackson County. In the fall of 1838, Doniphan was called to lead a detachment of approximately 200 Clay County militia to Caldwell and Daviess counties, to assist in settling a dispute between residents in the area.

In what would become known as the Mormon War, Brigadier General Doniphan was ordered by General Lucas of the State Militia to execute Joseph Smith, Jr., founder of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, his older brother Hyrum and other Church leaders. He flatly refused the direct order, stating, "It is cold-blooded murder." Though his disobedience could have led to his own court-martial, the refusal saved the lives of those Church leaders, who were turned over to civilian authorities.

Alexander Doniphan led one of the most famous expeditions in American history to Old Mexico in 1846-1847. His service during this war is recognized by his inclusion in the Fort Leavenworth Hall of Fame.

Following his service in the war, Doniphan returned to his law practice in Liberty where he grew in reputation as a supporter of business, political and economic growth of the local community and the nation. He was appointed by President Abraham Lincoln to serve as a delegate to the Washington Peace Conference in 1861. In 1862 he moved to St. Louis, where he worked as a lawyer with the Missouri Claims Commission seeking pensions for refugees during the Civil War.

Following the Civil War he relocated to Richmond, Ray County, Missouri, where he practiced law until his death at age 79. He is buried in Liberty, Missouri, beside his wife and two sons.

THE FIRST CLAY COUNTY SCHOOL COMMISSIONER

As a leader in education, Doniphan's name appears as trustee of a number of early schools in Missouri.

WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE

He joined with Major Alvin Lightburne and others as founders of William Jewell College in Liberty, Missouri, more than 160 years ago.

FORT LEAVENWORTH HALL OF FAME

Alexander Doniphan is one of nine distinguished pre-Civil War honorees who share placement on this Hall of Fame with General Douglas MacArthur, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Colin L. Powell, General William C. Westmoreland and other distinguished military leaders. Doniphan was the Brigade Commander in the Missouri State Militia during the Mexican American War. His brigade, including Clay County Militia, marched more than 5,500 miles and fought three important battles - Brazito, Sacramento and El Paso - conquering the states of Mexico and Chihuahua. Following the war, Doniphan drafted the code of civil law for the territory in both English and Spanish.

A MISSOURI LEGISLATOR OF THE WHIG PARTY

Elected to represent Clay County in 1836, 1840 and 1854, Doniphan was instrumental in organizing Caldwell and Daviess counties. He is also credited as a leading force in facilitating the Platte Purchase.

WASHINGTON PEACE CONFERENCE

Doniphan was appointed by President Abraham Lincoln as a delegate to the conference in 1861.

THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

As Brigadier General of the Clay County Militia, serving during the Mormon War of 1838, he refused a direct order to execute Joseph Smith, Jr., founder of the Church, his brother Hyrum and five other Church leaders, thus saving their lives. During the following months, Joseph and Hyrum Smith and four other Church leaders were held in the Liberty jail awaiting trial. The charges against them proved to be false and they were allowed to escape and reunite with their families.

About the Alexander W. Doniphan Community Service & Leadership Award

The Alexander W. Doniphan Community Service & Leadership Award recognizes the honoree as one who exemplifies General Doniphan's outstanding characteristics and personal commitments in one or more of the diverse components of his life, mainly Education, Jurisprudence, Statesmanship, Patriotism in Defense of Country, and Integrity in Business.

On his 200th birthday, July 9, 2008, Alexander W. Doniphan was inducted into the Hall of Famous Missourians by the Speaker of the Missouri House, and a life-sized bust was placed in the Missouri State Capitol in honor of his exemplary life and achievements.

The Alexander W. Doniphan Community Service & Leadership Award is made possible through the efforts of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the greater Kansas City area, the Clay County Millennium Historical Board and the Clay County Commission.
